Message from the Director of Orientation, Transition & Family Engagement

Dear Families,

This is a very busy week! I'd like to highlight the Career & Internship Fairs that takes place on Wednesday and Thursday. These events boost students' career readiness and help them learn about opportunities within their fields. Our Office of Career and Professional Development has worked diligently to engage students and promote these events. We ask you to also reach out to your students and encourage them to participate. Whether your student is a first-year student or senior, spending time with future employers benefits students in multiple ways even if it is as simple as thinking about how they will approach their future. College can be transformative by helping people improve their station in life and have productive and fulfilling lives. Programs such as the Career & Internship Fairs allows students to learn of opportunities that they may not have previously considered. Your personal outreach to students with whom you regularly connect holds immense potential in capturing their attention and emphasizing the importance of their participation.

Next week is Spring Break and students will have the opportunity to reset and recharge. Below you will find the email sent to residential students regarding Spring Break closing. This is an important time to check in with students regarding their progress this semester and to begin thinking about next semester as they should be making appointments with their advisors. Fall 2024 course registration will begin for juniors (next year's seniors) on April 2nd.

If our office could be of support, please feel free to reach out.

Sincerely,

Sal Rizza

Director of Orientation, Transition & Family Engagement
